Greetings from the PSUP Team!

The Participatory Slum Upgrading Programme (PSUP) is an initiative of the Organisation of African, Caribbean and Pacific States (ACP), funded by the European Commission. The Participatory Slum Upgrading Programme (PSUP) is an initiative of the Organisation of African, Caribbean and Pacific States (ACP), funded by the European Commission. PSUP seeks for innovative business solutions to improve people’s lives in urban and rural settlements, and to create long-term strategic, financing and business partnerships. We want to work with the private sector for investment in innovative business solutions to improve people’s lives in urban and rural settlements and to create long-term strategic, financing and business partnerships. We look forward to receiving proposals for innovative financing frameworks to improve people’s lives in urban and rural settlements and to create long-term strategic, financing and business partnerships. We look forward to receiving proposals for innovative financing frameworks to improve people’s lives in urban and rural settlements and to create long-term strategic, financing and business partnerships.

UN-Habitat’s PSUP Covid-19 Response

As already announced in our last newsletter, we are happy to keep you informed about our participation in forwards United Nations events in 2020.

More News and Updates

PSUP on United Nations (UN) Virtual Forums

On 16 November the UN Deputy Secretary-General, Amina J. Mohammed, visited our programme in Jamestown in Ghana’s capital in which 100,000 inhabitants have been benefiting from PSUP’s work. The visit was accompanied, among others, by Honourable Hannah Serwaa Tetteh, Special Representative to the African Union and Head of the United Nations Office to the African Union, to see our PSUP communal achievements. See our story on the UNHabitat newsletter page.

UN-Habitat’s PSUP Covid-19 Response

A new communal octopus

On 16 November the UN Deputy Secretary-General, Amina J. Mohammed, visited our programme in Jamestown in Ghana’s capital in which 100,000 inhabitants have been benefiting from PSUP’s work. The visit was accompanied, among others, by Honourable Hannah Serwaa Tetteh, Special Representative to the African Union and Head of the United Nations Office to the African Union, to see our PSUP communal achievements. See our story on the UNHabitat newsletter page.

CALL FOR PARTNERSHIPS

PSUP seeks for innovative business solutions to improve people’s lives in urban and rural settlements, and to create long-term strategic, financing and business partnerships. We want to work with the private sector for investment in innovative business solutions to improve people’s lives in urban and rural settlements and to create long-term strategic, financing and business partnerships.

UN-Habitat’s PSUP Covid-19 Response

On 16 November the UN Deputy Secretary-General, Amina J. Mohammed, visited our programme in Jamestown in Ghana’s capital in which 100,000 inhabitants have been benefiting from PSUP’s work. The visit was accompanied, among others, by Honourable Hannah Serwaa Tetteh, Special Representative to the African Union and Head of the United Nations Office to the African Union, to see our PSUP communal achievements. See our story on the UNHabitat newsletter page.

UN-Habitat’s PSUP Covid-19 Response

On 16 November the UN Deputy Secretary-General, Amina J. Mohammed, visited our programme in Jamestown in Ghana’s capital in which 100,000 inhabitants have been benefiting from PSUP’s work. The visit was accompanied, among others, by Honourable Hannah Serwaa Tetteh, Special Representative to the African Union and Head of the United Nations Office to the African Union, to see our PSUP communal achievements. See our story on the UNHabitat newsletter page.

CALL FOR PARTNERSHIPS

PSUP seeks for innovative business solutions to improve people’s lives in urban and rural settlements, and to create long-term strategic, financing and business partnerships. We want to work with the private sector for investment in innovative business solutions to improve people’s lives in urban and rural settlements and to create long-term strategic, financing and business partnerships.

UN-Habitat’s PSUP Covid-19 Response

On 16 November the UN Deputy Secretary-General, Amina J. Mohammed, visited our programme in Jamestown in Ghana’s capital in which 100,000 inhabitants have been benefiting from PSUP’s work. The visit was accompanied, among others, by Honourable Hannah Serwaa Tetteh, Special Representative to the African Union and Head of the United Nations Office to the African Union, to see our PSUP communal achievements. See our story on the UNHabitat newsletter page.

UN-Habitat’s PSUP Covid-19 Response

On 16 November the UN Deputy Secretary-General, Amina J. Mohammed, visited our programme in Jamestown in Ghana’s capital in which 100,000 inhabitants have been benefiting from PSUP’s work. The visit was accompanied, among others, by Honourable Hannah Serwaa Tetteh, Special Representative to the African Union and Head of the United Nations Office to the African Union, to see our PSUP communal achievements. See our story on the UNHabitat newsletter page.